

RULES

- Each Prode player should send his predicted match results prior to the deadline highlighted in the screen.
- Predictions can be posted in advance selecting the match date in the calendar bar
- The deadline for posting match results predictions is one hour prior to the first match of the day.
- Prode players can change their result predictions as many times as they choose as long as the changes are done prior to the deadline. The last prediction posted is the one that is going to be considered valid.
- Possible scores:
3 points for guessing correctly who wins or for a tie end.
2 extra points for guessing correctly the exact result.
Zero points for incorrect guessing.

For instance:

Prediction:

Argentina 3 – 0 Bosnia

If the match scoring ends Argentina 3-0 Bosnia, you gain 5 points: 3 point for guessing correctly that Argentina would be the winner, and 2 extra points for guessing the exact result.

If the match scoring ends Argentina 2-0 Bosnia, you gain 3 points for guessing correctly that Argentina would be the winner.

During the Group Stage, playoff matches or penalty definitions to break a tie will not be considered.

During the Round of 16, the scoring will account the official ninety minutes of the match and the extra time if it's appointed.

Penalty definitions to break a tie will not be considered.

The prediction will be considered correct if it's equal with result of the scoring during the ninety minutes plus the extra time.
